The Comet. BY GEORGE LENT.

You car of fire, though veiled by day, Along the field of gleaming blue, When twilight folded earth in gray, A world-wide wunder, flew.

Duly in turn each orb of light From out the darkening concave broke; Eve's glowing herald swam in light, And every star awoke.

The Lyre restrung its burning chords, Streamed from the Cross its earliest ray-Then zoes Altair, more sweet than words On music's soul could say.

They, from old time in course the same, Familiar set, familiar rise; But what art thou, wild, lovely flame.

Across the startled skies? Mysterious yet, as when it burst Through the vast void of nature hurled, And shook their shrinking hearts, at first, The Fathers of the world.

No curious sage the scroll unsesis-Vain quest to baffled science given-Its orbit ages, while it wheels, The miracle of Heaven.

In nature's plan, thy sphere unknown, Save that no sphere His order mars, Whose law could guide thy path alone, In realms beyond the stars.

God's minister! we know no more Of thee, thy frame, thy mission, still, Than he who watched thy flight, of yore, On the Chaldean hill.

Yet thus transcendant from thy blaze Beams light to pierce this mortal clod; Scarcely a tool on thee could gaze, And say-There is no God !

The following is a veritable petition signed by sixteen maids of the town of Charleston, S. C. and presented to his Excellency Gov. Johnson, of that province, in the year 1783 : "The humble petition of all the maids whose names are underwritten : " Whereas, We, the humble petitioners, are at present in a very melancholy d sposition of mind, considering how all the bachelors are captivated by widows, and our more youthful charms neglected; in consequence of this our request is that your Excellency will, for the future, order that no widow presume to marry any young man until the maids are provided for, or to pay each of them a fine for satisfaction for invading our liberties, and likewise a fine to be laid on all such bachelors as shall be married to widows. The great disadvantage it is to us maids is, that the widows, by their forward carriages, do snap up the young men, and to have the vanity to think their merits beyond ours, which is a great imposition on us, who ought to have the preference. This is humbly recommended to your Excellency's consideration, and hope you will permit no further insults. And we poor maids, in duty bound,

THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS ARE noted the world over for their unrivated salubrity of climate. Certain localities in the group are espec-ially favored in this way.—The District of Kona, on the leeward side of Hawali, has long been famed as a place of resort for invalids with bronchital, or lung diseases. With its pure and mild atmosphere, with its absolute freedom from atorms or high winds, with its porous soil which, with all its rich vegetation, retains no dampness and yields no malaria, and with an unvarying temperature—that of the American or Southern European June—ALL THE YEAR ROUND, the climate of Kona is one of the healthiest and most luxurious on the globe. The undersigned, at his house at Kaawaloa, a house nuequaled in the district for size, cleanliness, commodicusness, and thoroughness of furnishing, is prepared to give hourders excellent rooms and all obtainable comforts in the way of dist. at the low rate of $ 5.00 per week. There are fresh water baths on the premises, and fine sea bathing within a short distance. The steamer Kilauea and the schooners Ullama and Prince, sun regularly between Honolulu and the Kaawaloa landlog.

The undersigned employs no agents nor runners. His house speaks for itself upon inspection.
